What our customers are saying

Love the ARO model, and the focus on the important things instead of noise.

GARY S. ON SOFTWAREREVIEWS

They've always responded extremely quickly - within minutes.

VP OF IT ON PEERSPOT

The tech is amazing. The support is fantastic. But they are best in their support of their partners.

About our founder

Matt Holland held an extensive tenure at a Canadian intelligence agency (CSE). He then co-founded and sold one of the most prominent intelligence tradecraft companies in the world, while also building and teaching two mandatory tradecraft courses to over a thousand Five Eyes developers. Finally, he founded Field Effect – a global cybersecurity company. The combination of his expertise in cyber intelligence and deep knowledge of both the offensive and defensive realms uniquely positions him to be the ideal founder for an all-in-one cybersecurity company.
