

EVOCATIVE

Company Overview

ABOUT US

Build, Connect, Grow. Your digital ecosystem starts here.

Evocative is a global leader in Internet Infrastructure, providing enterprise-class data center, network, and bare metal solutions that enable exceptional digital experiences. Evocative's global footprint includes interconnected data centers and Points of Presence across strategically located metros in North America, Europe, and Asia regions.

Through organic growth and strategic acquisition, Evocative continues to expand its presence to power enterprise workloads at the edge. Whether you are deploying new infrastructure or expanding your presence, our mission is to help you drive your business forward, now and in the decades to come.

OUR SERVICES

Data Center Services

Evocative's data center services are purpose-built with a wide range of colocation power, space, and support options, in addition to network and bare metal services – all in strategically located metros with Tier-1 carriers across every site.

Network Services

Evocative's network services enable you to efficiently move data within the data center, between data centers, and between cloud platforms for fast, secure, and reliable access from anywhere. Our Global Network, IP, Cloud Connect, and Cross Connect services are designed to enable enterprises to seamlessly connect to customers, service providers, and business partners across the globe.

Evocative Metal

Evocative's bare metal service delivers high-performance, dedicated compute power to support your most data-intensive workloads. Our servers can be deployed with the operating system of your choice. Direct access to compute resources and hardware-level performance provides you with complete control without “noisy-neighbors” competing for your resources.
